and M Station Rogan arranged with 187 Major Kemp that old Puke should not be Address disturbed in his occupation of the few acres he held. He was an old man, his house was old, and the ground nearly worked out. It was probable he would soon go of his own accord on to the 100 acres at Tekehanui's care. Kemp agreed that Maitland should not interfere with Puke in any way.
That was how the matter stood
