London 26 June 1872.

My dear Vogel.

My friends of whom I spoke to you as being able to supply arms of equality as good & as cheap as it was possible for you to get anywhere and who have furnished large quantities to the American Branch Govem to have sent you by the "Buckingham" a case containing Guns Revolvers and will be obliged by you issuing orders that on their arrival they got a fair trial and report. & I hope it may lead to business.

I presume it is unnecessary for me to assure you that I have no pecuniary interest in this whatever.

I have had a great amount of enjoyment since I have returned here having been in the hands of a surgeon for an old complaint which I was not aware I was neglecting when in New Zealand.

Wishing you all well both here & home to Mrs. V. I remain yours as usual Hon. Julius Vogel
Wellington. J. MacKelvie
