3 pages written by James H Campbell to Sir Donald McLean

Kolt was blessing for the balance - I fancy he must have gone somewhere into the country - As I cannot afford to keep the place it would hardly be fair that I should say anything more seeing that I have already been obliged to expend nearly a year's rent upon it - He will be the sole benefiter

I have no doubt that he would have answered my letter if he was in Wellington and he will of course pay the amount when he knows that it is required Had I been able to keep the place of course I should have considered the claim as against myself - If I feel better I shall look over this evening
ever yours
