

3 pages written 8 Oct 1874 by Alex Creighton Arthur to Sir Donald McLean

3 pages written 8 Oct 1874 by Alex Creighton Arthur to Sir Donald McLean

who without any intention of taking the land, have been offering enormous sums for small blocks, and this has unsettled their minds, and they wish to increase my rent from £150 to £250 per annum. Mr. Effie thinks that I have about 12,000 acres, so that the surveyors should not be sent back to appeal £200, but they would not agree.

Captain Pater was here at the time and kindly explained to them for me, that they were not behaving well.

If it is not asking you to commit yourself in any way, would you kindly do anything that lays in your power to alter the decision of the natives about the coast.

If you ever to write a letter

3 pages written 8 Oct 1874 by Alex Creighton Arthur to Sir Donald McLean

to the people of Tokomaru they would change their minds, but as I may be asking you to do something wrong, I will leave the matter in your hands feeling sure that any thing you would care do for me you will.

I trust Douglas is well.
If not too late allow me to congratulate you on the well deserved honor conferred by the Queen.

Believe me
Sir D. McLean
Yours truly
A. C. Arthur