The on dit here is that you have gone to Auckland to get money for the purpose of buying some of land here. I wish to good wish you could in order to remove one corner of their woodlands.

Mark & I are as far from a road agreement as ever and the little fool will have it that you and I are in fault - He is a silly, catwitted creature, and I laugh at his observations.

Your mother and all other folks here are well. Ritchie goes on excellently well, but your law folks at Auckland want give him licence to practice here, though in point of law, or even general education he has no equal here. This is too bad.

I am, in haste,
my dear Ma
Very faithfully Yours
