E hoa, e Makarini,

Friend, McLean,

Tena ra koe. He nui toku aroha ki a koe. E hoa, kia rongō mai koe i toku whakaaro, i ahau e mahara ana ki te oranga mo te tinana. Koia ahau ka tuhi tuhi atu ai kia rongō koe i te whakaaro o toku ngakau. Kahore he tahuritanga ketanga o toku whakaaro i roto i te atawhai o te Atua.

Greetings to you there. I have great affection for you. Friend, listen to what I thought when I was reflecting on the well-being of the body. It is the reason I write so that you will know what I have been thinking about, and that I have not been turning away in my mind from the grace of God.

E hoa, e puta ana toku aroha ki nga tauwi katoa, e noho ana i te ao katoa, no te mea kua rongohau ki te kupu i roto i te pukapuka, e mea ana ko te aroha hono iho ano ki te aroha. Heoi ano toku whakaaro ki a koe.

Friend, my love goes out to all other peoples in the whole world, because I have learned from the word in the book [Bible], where it says 'and grace for grace' [John 1:16]. That is all of my thinking for you.

Na tou hoa aroha, a
Te Nuitone

From your good friend,
Te Nuitone
